

965 Series

The 965, available in both right-handed and left-handed models, is our latest game improvement model. It is investment cast using double-heat treated, 431 stainless steel for soft feel, and polished to a smooth satin finish. This model is a midsize design featuring variable cavity weighting for optimal M.O.I. and improved impact stability. Playability is further enhanced through the use of square grooves, mild progressive offset, and a 4-way radiused sole. These design characteristics make the 965 our most forgiving model and the ideal choice for any player who desires a combination of forgiveness, playability, and improved distance.

As expected with the RedBird custom fit approach, these clubs are available in a wide range of fitting options to meet your unique requirements and to help you achieve optimal control of both distance and direction.

Shaft Options

Shaft options and specifications are available on the Web site at www.redbirdsports.com.

IRONS