

RB-1 Series

The RB-1 is a classically shaped Muscle Back blade design with no offset. They are manufactured in Japan from a 21-8 high-nickel content alloy known as “sticky metal.” Unlike most carbon steel iron heads, our 21-8 nickel alloy does not require hard chrome plating to prevent surface corrosion and as a result the RB-1 is one of the softest, yet most solid feeling clubs in golf.

RB-1 blades have a square leading edge that makes proper alignment easy. These blades feature a radiused sole with beveled trailing edge for maximum playability from a wide variety of lies. A perfect club for the avid player, the combination of design features and high quality materials provide maximum control, soft feel and superior accuracy.

As expected with the RedBird custom fit approach, these clubs are available in a wide range of fitting options to meet your unique requirements and help you achieve optimal control of both distance and direction.
